To Accommodate Town Services

Construction New Town Buildings Under Way

Two buildings with a common wall, one 25x66 ft. and one 32x66 ft., are being built under the supervision of the Town of Vulcan on town property adjacent to the old fire hall.

The provincial recreation grant of approximately $12,000 will be used towards the cost of the 25x66 ft. building. This building will contain a 20x25 ft. reading room and the 25x66 ft. space for books will also contain a small office and rest rooms. The concrete block building is estimated to cost $12,500.

Half of the other building or a space 16x66 ft. will be used for accommodation for fire trucks and fire fighting equipment, with hose drying racks along one wall. The other part of the building will provide a 16x42 ft. garage for the ambulance operated by the county and the town and a 16x24 ft. extension of the court room in the police building. Estimated cost of the 32x66 ft. building for the fire truck garage, ambulance garage and court room extension is $8,000.

Construction is of concrete blocks and the whole project is being done under the winter works program. Footings were poured last week and this week the walls are beginning to take shape.

Nine Successful In Radio Operators E.M.O. Course

The most recent group of local men who recently completed their "Restricted Radio Operators" examinations brings the total of successful applicants since this training began four years ago, to around 30.

The radio course, run by the Vulcan Emergency Measures Organization (previously named Civil Defence) was taken by 13 students, nine of whom took and passed the exam. Lundy Findlay, Al Knowles, Ken Gatenby, Scotty Sutherland and Frank Burchak took the Land and Civil Defence operators course. Their training was done with three mobile radio units and one fixed station and instruction was given on setting up radio contact between points such as would be required under an emergency.

David Mitchell, Lionel Lucas, Norman Marshall and Mel Burgess included land and aeronautical operation to their course which ran one night a week from January to mid-March. This training could be of assistance if the need arose and also it fits in with their hobby of flying. The aeronautical qualification enables them to use airports which are open to radio equipped planes only.

Doug Wilson was instructor for the course and officials from the Department of Transport were in Vulcan to give examinations.

See the Advocate for columnar forms, ledger sheets and binders at Calgary prices.

Third Amateur Radio Station Now Operating

Chief Constable J. L. Moyer has received his license from the Department of Transport to operate an amateur radio station with the call letters VE6-AFJ.

Granting of the license follows about a year's study, with proficiency in Morse code required before voice transmission is allowed. In studying for his operator's license, Mr. Moyer received help and instruction from two other Vulcan men, Douglas Wilson, who operates amateur station VE6-DW and John Haydamack, operator of station VE6-SL.

Shower Honors Recent Bride

Mrs. Irwin Hughes, the former Miss Freda Baerg of Lethbridge, was honored recently with a shower held in the Legion Hall.

The bride's table was nicely decorated with lace cloth, blue and white streamers and bows, and a wedding cake with bouquets of flowers centered the table. The bride and her party were escorted to the places of honor, to the strains of "The Wedding March," played by Mrs. Gladys Buehler. Mrs. Emelson then presented Freda with a corsage.

The guest of honor and all those present enjoyed a few games of bingo and this was followed by an amusing write-up on the shower made up by the ladies. Mrs. Eileen Galloway presented the bride with a gaily decorated basket filled with many beautiful gifts.

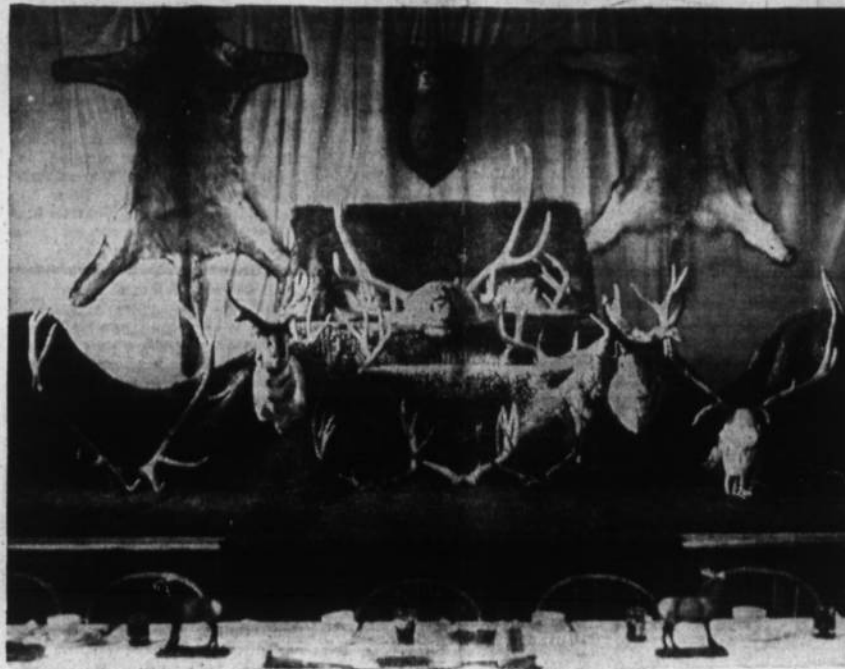

Freda was assisted in opening her gifts by her mother, Mrs. Baerg of Lethbridge, Irwin's mother, Mrs. Grace Hughes and Ruby Richardson who looked after the guest book. Freda very graciously thanked all the ladies for the many useful and lovely gifts and invited them to visit her in her new home. Mrs. Grace Hughes then thanked all the ladies for their kindness and thoughtfulness in welcoming Freda to Vulcan.

A delicious lunch was then served by the hostesses, Eileen Galloway, Cecile Emelson, Freda Jones, Agnes Petrosky and the ladies in Mrs. Hughes' card club.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Jesse and family of Turin were Easter guests at the Max Jesse home.

Mr. and Mrs. K. Jensen and small daughter of Lethbridge were Easter holiday weekend guests at the home of Mrs. Jensen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Montie Findlay.

Mrs. Albert Schierman, Mrs. Henry Lebsack and Mrs. Henry Hilz motored to Gleichen on Thursday, where they visited with Mrs. Faulkner, who is a missionary at the Indian Reserve.

SOME OF THE BEST

THE HEADS AND SKINS of wild animals of Alberta, the prize possessions of Claresholm sportsmen, decorated the stage in the IOOF Hall for the annual show and game banquet of the Claresholm Fish & Game Association, March 18. Trophies were presented in many categories from the number of bars in the tail feather of a pheasant to the largest Elk head. The banquet consisted of wild game with beef and fish clearly marked so patrons would know what they were eating.

Wolfe Rink Wins

Curling Season Ends With Mixed Open Bonspiel

The curling season in Vulcan came to a successful ending last week with the holding of a 16-rink mixed open bonspiel. Winners of the First Event was the John Wolfe (skip) rink made up of Shirley Wolfe, Mike Jantzie and Joan Jantzie. They won the final against Ted Percival of Blackie with Alice Thurber, Jack Thurber and Eleanor Percival, making up the second place quartet.

Second Event winners were the rink of Almond Hyslop, Ruth Orchard, Norm Bucholtz and Del Thomas; with second place going to Orville Webb, Mae Webb, Russell Graham and Al Godkin.

Third Event honors went to the Ray Wellman foursome of Ethel Banks, Bev. Banks and June Wellman, with a final victory over Ivan Haga, Mabel Rea, Del Graham and Norm Lebsack.

The Wellman and Banks combination rink left immediately after the finish of the local 'spiel to attend a sixty-four rink mixed 'spiel in Lethbridge over the Easter weekend and they continued their winning ways down south by getting to the finals of the First Event and losing a last rock decision to the Garth Pilling rink of Lethbridge for top honors.

The Ladies' Curling Club wound up their season with a get-together at the home of Al Lucas, where trophy winners were declared and the Hannah Matlock

F. M. Anderson Sells Interest In Business Block

A business deal was concluded last week whereby F. M. Anderson disposed of his half interest in the business block housing the Vulcan Supply Co., Robinson Stores, Ottewell the Tailor and the Marble Cafe to G. C. Collier, who now becomes sole owner of the big frame building.

Mr. Anderson operated the dry goods and clothing business known as F. M. Anderson & Co. Ltd., before selling out in 1950 to Jack Kannigesser, who a short while later disposed of the business to the present owners of Robinson Stores. Retired since 1950, Mr. Anderson and his wife still live in Vulcan and will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary later this year.

G. C. Collier, with his son Albert, still operates the Vulcan Supply Co.

Rink of Mae Webb, Joan Jantzie and Mabel McIntyre were winners of the Vulcan Curling Club trophy. Tops in the Middleton trophy competition were the foursome of June Wellman, Mary Haga, Carolyn Greaves and Ann Thompson.

Should Be More Emphasis On Farm Economics

Farmers who do not keep records are unlikely to survive in today's competitive agricultural industry. Alberta's Farm Management Specialist T. A. Peterson, points out that increasing costs, declining prices and new technology have resulted in more and more emphasis being placed upon the importance of farm economics and business principles in the agricultural field.

Lack of information and the inability to interpret information correctly are two of the main difficulties confronting farm managers today. A thorough understanding of economic principles is a prerequisite to wise decisions and the best use of all potential resources.

The formation of farm management associations, clubs or business associations is one of the methods by which lack of information and knowledge has been tackled. These groups of farmers have had a long and successful history in the progressive farming areas of the United States and the idea is rapidly gaining popularity in Canada.

In Alberta, the district agriculturists at Lacombe and Red Deer have been giving farm accounting courses to local farmers for several years now. In 1959 these various groups decided to form a formal association so that they could pool their accounting information and learn more about the business principles involved in present day farming. A director was appointed from each local study group to form the executive and the meetings, supervised by the district agriculturist, are held monthly during the winter. Each of the 73 members pays $10 a year which goes towards the cost of compiling an annual bulletin, based on the records submitted by the participants. Every member receives one of these reports showing his position compared to the average for the group.

Both farmers and district agriculturists in other areas of the province are becoming increasingly interested in this type of project to supplement the farm and home management work already being done. It is hoped that a business analysis laboratory, maintained to a great extent by membership fees, will eventually be set up to analyze farm records. When this is accomplished it will be a definite step forward in basic farm management research as well as in providing information and training for members and district agriculturists.

The cobalt bomb, which was developed by Canadian scientists has proved to be one of the most useful tools in the radiation treatment of small, deep-seated cancers, according to the Canadian Cancer Society. The Society provides money for experimentation on further uses of the unit and for the training of radiologists to use it.

Call For Tenders Soon

Plan Base Course For 10 Miles, Highway 23

First work to be undertaken this year towards the hard-surfacing of the remaining gravelled portion of Highway 23 will be a soil-cement base course from the junction with Highway 2 just east of High River for a distance of 10.33 miles towards Blackie, according to information received last weekend from Hon. Peter Dawson, Speaker of the House and MLA for Little Bow.

The contract for this work is expected to be let this month and the first advertisement calling for tenders should appear about April 10th.

The soil-cement base course is a switch, in this area, from the usual asphalt base course. Apparently the soil-cement base (which, incidentally, was used in Vulcan's street hard-surfacing program last summer) has proven satisfactory and meets the high standards required for highway construction.

From south of Blackie to the junction with Highway 24 at the Corner Store, there remains a further 17 miles of gravelled road which was rebuilt and re-gravelled in 1959. No indication has been given yet whether or not this stretch of highway will receive the base course this year but the road is in excellent shape and it is hoped that consideration is being given to having base course work done on it this year.

Both choirs, numbering about 50 voices, joined in the second half of the program in the Cantata, "The Last Supper," by Eric Thimman.

Mrs. Nora Seerchfield, organist of Scarboro United Church provided accompaniment for the evening.

At a United Church congregational evening held the previous Sunday the Vulcan choir presented the Cantata, "The Last Supper" with soloists Mrs. Bill Hilz, Wm. Shields and Art Jones taking the lead parts. Organist for that evening was Mrs. Max Sloan of Champlain.

BRIDGE BEING RE-LOCATED. While Long's Bridge over Willow Creek, southwest of Claresholm, is being re-located, traffic is using a temporary bridge. Citizens using the bridge petitioned the Municipal District of Willow Creek for a new concrete structure which would go directly east and west instead of angling northwest as the present one does. Municipal officials did not feel the amount of traffic warranted a new bridge but decided to line this one up with the road and build new approaches. —Calgary Herald—Andersen Photo

Did you try cutting Sanderson off, August? Thanks for all your effort. — Hannah Puzey home from convention, just effervescing with enthusiasm over the value of Home and School. Let's all turn out to the meeting on April 17, so some of her enthusiasm can rub off on us. — Mrs. Guy Dow burning the mid-night oil out doing herself, decorating grandmas cake more beautifully than the last; it was truly a masterpiece. Congratulations Edith.

DID SOMEONE SAY something about disarmament and fall-out shelters? We're all agreed on disarmament as of now. Five birds in a crate even if we are permitted to have our heads out isn't anything to crow about. They tell us things could be worse... we could have been in the crate below. The above picture was taken by Paul Andersen one morning in front of the local egg grading station. The birds were photogenic as they all turned in the right direction.

New Rod Weeder

Plus Extra Ruggedness for OLIVER Chisel Plow

There's a new bonus in field cultivation and summer fallowing with a rod-weeder attachment for an Oliver chisel plow. The soil pulverizes better and you kill more weeds.

The new rod-weeder attachment operates automatically when you drop the chisels, regardless of the type of lift or size of wheel type chisel plow you have. The rod is powered by strong, low friction, roller-type chains—no transmission or gears to wear out.

Now Oliver's popular chisel plow has new ruggedness, too. The entire frame is a lightweight, rigid box. Each double-spring clamp has new length for added strength and flexibility.

Give us a call and we'll arrange a demonstration of the new Oliver chisel plow — both with and without the rod-weeder attachment.

Insurance means

PEACE of MIND

For the Homeowner: Today, insurance is making it possible for more Canadian families than ever before to enjoy the security of home ownership.

Without the protection of insurance against fire and other disasters, probably few of today's new homes could ever have been started. Knowledge that a home and its contents are adequately insured against sudden loss replaces worry with Peace of Mind.

Last year, the companies writing fire, automobile and casualty insurance paid out more than 500 Million Dollars in claims across Canada—real evidence that insurance indeed means Peace of Mind.

Highway 23

The announcement this week that work leading to the hard-surfacing of Highway 23 between its junction with Highway 2 East of High River and the Corner Store would start from the junction end is a bit surprising in view of the fact that rebuilding of the ten-mile stretch now slated for base course work was only completed last year, while the other 17 miles to the east was rebuilt two years ago.

However, the entire 27-mile stretch of gravelled road appears to be in excellent shape and ready for the base course and, although no indication of intention has been given by the Department of Highways, it is perhaps possible that the entire gravelled portion of Highway 23 is slated to receive the base course this year.

One thing we are sure of—if the ten miles of base course is the only work done on Highway 23 this year residents of the area the highway serves are going to be somewhat unhappy about the situation, inasmuch as the work of surfacing the less-than-85-miles long Highway 23 was started in 1954 and has thus averaged only nine miles per year.

New Approach To Gully Filling

Last fall a new approach to gully control was tried by several Alberta municipal districts and counties. This took the form of demonstration in which the municipal graders were used in the work.

The demonstrations were a great success, according to C. R. E. Johnson, Assistant Extension Engineer, and the graders did an excellent job. A flat bottom about 15 feet wide was cut by the blade of the grader and the sides were back-sloped until the width at the top of the ditch was between 30 and 40 feet across.

After a ditch has been made, the waterway should be seeded to a mixture of fescue, brome and a nurse crop such as oats. The grass impedes the water flow, binds the soil together and increases erosion resistance. Mr. Johnson says that slopes up to five per cent incline can be grassed successfully.

During heavy rains or spring run-off an abnormal amount of water flows down the natural slopes of the land and collects in rivulets in the draws. From here it follows the natural drainage systems on the farm. Once the top soil has been washed away a considerable amount of erosion will occur and the gully head will gradually eat farther and farther into the land, becoming wider and deeper as it progresses. At this stage the gully may "stabilize" but the damage has already been done.

MAJORVILLE

Spring must really be here. The fishing widows in our midst have brought out the thermos bottles from storage and although the first fishing trip of the season was a failure the nimrods are hard to discourage and doubtless will be off for the afternoon again in the not too distant future.

Also noticed this week was a couple harem of pheasants and the crows were on their favorite lookout in the grove on several mornings during the week. It is hard to believe it is only the end of March when the hum of tractors at work can be heard from many directions.

Of interest to the community is the marriage at the home of the bride in Armada last Monday between Leonard Klemme, son of George Klemme and the late Mrs. Klemme and Miss Irene Kunkel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kunkel of Armada. Not usually associated with prairie blooms, daffodils are reported ready to bloom in the garden of Mrs. Jessie Umschied, but then Jessie is known to have that extra something it takes to make things grow that possibly helped.

ELEPHANT BRAND FERTILIZER PAID FOR THIS TRACTOR

This is how we illustrate a basic principle — "It doesn't cost, it pays to use fertilizer." Fertilizer can provide the money for those many things you need to make the job easier or your family living better.

You make more money in two different ways when you fertilize with Elephant Brand. You grow better grade crops which sell for higher prices; you get greater profit from each bushel because it has cost you less to produce each bushel.

GROWING WHEAT?

You can make extra profits of $9.75 per acre and even more by fertilizing your wheat crop.

Here is an example of how fertilizer increases profit from wheat.

Increased yield per acre with ELEPHANT BRAND	10 bus.
Value of increase (Wheat valued at $1.25 per bushel)	$12.50
Approximate cost of fertilizer (50 lbs. per acre of 11-48-0 on summerfallow)*	$ 2.75
EXTRA PROFIT PER ACRE	$ 9.75

*Wheat on stubble, when properly fertilized can show equally profitable returns.

DO NOT LISTEN TO UNQUALIFIED ADVICE

George P. Larrick, U.S. commissioner of Food and Drugs said, quote —

"IT IS ESTIMATED THAT APPROXIMATELY 50,000

Canvassers now sell vitamins and food supplements. These agents are not qualified to advise the public on matters of diet and health. Yet, many of them are in a sense practicing medicine without a license.

To make sales, they do not hesitate, in the privacy of the home, to recommend their products for the treatment of any disease condition.

When this leads to delay in obtaining competent medical treatment, it is very dangerous." (end of quote)
